

Representation of the People Act (Amendment) (No. 2) Bill 2015 – Third Reading approved

Mr Cretney to move:

That the Representation of the People Act (Amendment) (No. 2) Bill 2015 be read a third time and do pass.

The President: We move now then to the Third Reading.
I call on the Hon. Member, Mr Cretney.

Mr Cretney: Thank you very much, Madam President.

Can I again thank all Hon. Members for their support in allowing the Bill to progress in such a timely way. It is a simple matter really which became complicated somewhat in the House of Keys. I think a number of Members of the House of Keys did support what Mr Watterson was talking about, but this was not a relevant vehicle.

So I beg to move that the Bill be read a third time and do pass.

The President: The Hon. Member, Mr Anderson.

Mr Anderson: Madam President, I beg to second.

The President: The motion is that the Bill be read a third time and do pass. Those in favour, please say aye; against, no. The ayes have it. The ayes have it. The motion therefore carries, Hon. Members.

That concludes consideration of the Bill and of our Order Paper. The Council will now stand adjourned until Tuesday of next week.

The Council adjourned at 11.32 a.m.
