

Terrorism and Crime (Miscellaneous Amendments) Bill – Third Reading approved

The Speaker: Mr Watterson.

Mr Watterson: Thank you, Mr Speaker.

As before, given the airing that this has had at Second Reading and clauses, I do not intend to make a substantial speech, other than to say that the issues that were raised by the Hon. Member for Onchan during the passage of clauses will receive a written reply and I will make sure that he gets answers to those as the Bill progresses through Legislative Council. (Interjection) With that, I do beg to move the Third Reading and in doing so, wish to thank my second and all those who have spoken, and especially all those who have not. (Laughter)

The Speaker: Mr Thomas.

Mr Thomas: I beg leave, Mr Speaker, to second that, and I apologise to my Minister for being stoic. (Laughter)

The Speaker: Hon. Members, I put the motion that the Terrorism and Crime (Miscellaneous Amendments) Bill be read for a third time. Those in favour, please say aye; against, no. The ayes have it.

A division was called for and electronic voting resulted as follows:

FOR	AGAINST
Mrs Beecroft	None
Mr Bell
Mr Boot
Mr Cannan
Mr Cregeen
Mr Gawne
Mr Hall
Mr Harmer
Mr Houghton
Mr Joughin

Mr Peake
Mr Quayle
Mr Quirk
Mr Robertshaw
Mr Shimmin
Mr Singer
Mr Skelly
Mr Teare
The Speaker
Mr Thomas
Mr Watterson

The Speaker: With 23 votes for, no votes against, the motion carries unanimously.

Now, Hon. Members, it is quite a while since we have had such a long, productive day in our own Chamber. We need make no complaint, as that is what we are here for. (Members: Hear, hear.) That concludes the business of the House which will now stand adjourned until the next sitting, which will take place at 10 o'clock, 2nd February, in this Chamber.
