

THE CHILDREN ACT, 1910.

Places of Detention for Children and Young Persons.

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to appoint the following place a Place of Detention, as from 1st June, 1912, under the provisions of the Children Act, 1910, for children and young persons committed for detention under that Act:—

No. 29, Burnside Terrace, Woodbourne Road, Douglas.

His Excellency has been further pleased to appoint Mr. John Cain, at present Superintendent of Police (and who will retire on 31st May), to have the care and custody of children and young persons committed to such Place of Detention.

By Order,

B. E. SARGEAUNT,

Government Secretary.

Government Office,
Isle of Man,
18th May, 1912.
