

SUMMER TIME (ISLE OF MAN) ACT, 1916.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been graciously pleased, by Order in Council dated 23rd May, 1916, made under the provisions of the Isle of Man (War Legislation) Act, 1914, to extend to the Isle of Man the Summer Time Act, 1916, a reprint of which is appended, subject to the following adaptations:—

In sub-section (1) of section 1, for the words "Great Britain" there shall be substituted the words "the Isle of Man."

In sub-section (3) of section 1, after the words "Act of Parliament," there shall be read the words "Act of Tynwald."

In sub-section (3) of section 1, the expression "Government Department" shall include the Lieutenant-Governor.

In section 2, after the words "Summer Time," there shall be read the words "(Isle of Man)."

All clocks in the Isle of Man should be advanced one hour as from 2 a.m. on Sunday, the 21st May.

By order,

B. E. SARGEAUNT,
Government Secretary.

Government Office

Isle of Man,

23rd May, 1916.

1. (1) During the prescribed period in each year in which this Act is in force, the time, for general purposes, in Great Britain shall be one hour in advance of Greenwich mean time.

(2) This Act shall be in force in the year nineteen hundred and sixteen, and in that year the prescribed period shall be from two o'clock in the morning Greenwich mean time on Sunday the twenty-first day of May until two o'clock in the morning

Greenwich mean time on Sunday the first day of October, and His Majesty may in any subsequent year, by Order in Council made during the continuance of the present war, declare this Act to be in force during that year, and in such case the prescribed period in that year shall be such period as may be fixed by the Order in Council.

(3) Wherever any expression of time occurs in any Act of Parliament, Order in Council, order, regulation, rule, or bye-law, or in any deed, time table, notice, advertisement, or other document, the time mentioned or referred to shall be held, during the prescribed period, to be the time as fixed by this Act.

Provided that where, in consequence of this Act, it is expedient that any time fixed by any bye-law, regulation, or other instrument should be adjusted and such adjustment cannot be effected except after the lapse of a certain interval or on compliance with certain conditions, the appropriate Government Department may, on the application of the body or person by whom the bye-law, regulation, or other instrument was made or is administered, make such adjustment in the time so fixed as in the circumstances may seem to the Department proper, and if any question arises as to what Government Department is the appropriate Government Department, the question shall be finally determined by the Treasury.

(4) This Act shall apply to Ireland in like manner as it applies to Great Britain, with the substitution however of references to Dublin mean time for references to Greenwich mean time.

(5) Nothing in this Act shall affect the use of Greenwich mean time for purposes of astronomy, meteorology, or navigation, or affect the construction of any document mentioning or referring to time in connection with such purposes as aforesaid.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Summer Time Act, 1916."
