LOCAL GOVERNMENT CONSOLIDATION ACT, 1916.

Compulsory Notification of Chickenpox.

In view of cases of smallpox having arisen in England, and seeing that the symptoms of the diseases of chickenpox and smallpox are very similar, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor has issued an Order, dated the 12th July, 1921 (a copy of which is appended) declaring chickenpox to be an Infectious Disease for the period commencing 14th July, 1921, and ending 30th September, 1921, for the purposes of the Local Government Consolidation Act, 1916.

Any case of chickenpox which may arise during the period specified will therefore require to be immediately notified to the proper Authority, in accordance with the provisions of the above Act.

Parents and guardians of children are especially warned that they, as well as Medical Practitioners, are responsible under the above Act for causing notification to be at once made of the presence of infectious disease in the children under their care.

Any person offending against the provisions of the above Act in regard to notification of Infectious Disease shall for every offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20.

By Order,

B. E. SARGEAUNT,

Government Office,
Isle of Man,

Government Secretary.

12th July, 1921.

ISLE OF MAN }

A PROCLAMATION.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE.

WHEREAS Infectious Disease is defined in the Local Government Consolidation Act, 1916, to include Cholera, Small-pox, Typhus, Typhoid, Scarlet, Relapsing, Continued, and Puerperal Fever; Measles, Scarlatina, and Diphtheria, and such other diseases as the Governor in Council may from time to time declare for the purposes of such Act to be infectious.

AND WHEREAS cases of smallpox have occurred in England.

AND WHEREAS the disease of chickenpox is very similar to smallpox.

AND WHEREAS at a sitting of the Council held on the 12th day of July, 1921, it was resolved that, in order to keep this Island free from smallpox, chickenpox should be declared for a limited period to be an infectious disease for the purposes of the said Local Government Consolidation Act, 1916.

NOW THEREFORE, I, the said Lieutenant-Governor, DO HEREBY declare Chickenpox to be an infectious disease, for the purposes of the said Local Government Consolidation Act, 1916, for the period commencing the 14th day of July, 1921, and ending the 30th day of September, 1921.

GIVEN under my hand this 12th day of July, 1921.

W. FRY, M.G., Lieutenant-Governor.
