

GOVERNMENT CIRCULAR

No. 75/50.

G.O. Reference No. 28189/1/1.

THE NATIONAL SERVICE ACTS, 1948. (as extended to the Isle of Man by Order-in-Council.)

THE NATIONAL SERVICE (PART-TIME SERVICE) REGULATIONS, 1950.

The above-styled Regulations made by His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor under the provisions of the National Service Acts, 1948 (as extended to the Isle of Man by Order-in-Council) prescribe—

- (1) the manner in which an application to the Governor must be made by a man whose service in the armed forces has been interrupted and who is liable to be called upon to undertake part-time service, for the variation or cancellation of a notice served on him under section 23 of the National Service Act, 1948, specifying the term of part-time service which he is liable to perform; and
- (2) the procedure to be followed in connection with an application to a reinstatement committee under section 51 of the Act for the determination of his right to recover compensation by a man in whose case a dispute has arisen as to the compensation payable to him by reason of the termination of his employment by his employer, solely or mainly by reason of his liability to perform duties under the Act during his term of part-time service.

The Regulations also relieve employees in respect of their periods of training during their terms of part-time service under the Act and the employers of such persons of certain obligations under any contract of service or apprenticeship that may be in force when the employee is summoned for training. They provide that during the period of training the parties to any such contract shall be relieved of all their obligations under the contract which relate to:—

- (a) the payment of remuneration;
- (b) the performance of work;
- (c) the provision of work;
- (d) maintenance (including medical or surgical treatment); or
- (e) instruction;

except where the arrangement between the parties concerned itself provides for dealing with all or any of the above matters. If and to the extent that the parties have made their own arrangements, those arrangements will remain in force and are not affected by these Regulations.

Similarly the Regulations provide that, where a trainee is at the commencement of his training employed under a contract of service or apprenticeship for a definite period, that period shall be extended to cover the time lost because of the training, unless the arrangement between the parties itself makes a specific provision about this matter.

The Regulations were approved by Tynwald on the 16th day of May, 1950.

By Order,

J. N. PANES,
Government Secretary.

Government Office,
Isle of Man.
17th May, 1950.

to Wit,

BY HIS EXCELLENCY AIR VICE-MARSHAL SIR GEOFFREY RHODES

THE SAID ISLE, &c., &c., &c.

NATIONAL SERVICE.

5.—(1) Where a contract of service or apprenticeship is in force between an employer and an employee when the employee is summoned for training in pursuance of a training notice served on him under Part I of the Act then—

- (a) if an arrangement has been or is entered into between the parties to the contract, or if the contract makes provision, for any of the following purposes, that is to say:—

 - (i) the parties to the contract shall in respect of the period of training required by the training notice be relieved of all their obligations under the contract which relate to the following matters, that is to say, the payment of remuneration, the performance of work, or the provision of work, maintenance (including medical or surgical treatment) or instruction;

- (ii) where the contract is for a period specified or ascertainable from it, the period of service or apprenticeship thereunder shall be extended by a period equal to the period of training or by a period equal to the period of the contract unexpired at the date on which the employee is required to present himself for training, if that period be less than the period of training;
- (iii) a period of extension shall be treated as commencing immediately upon the conclusion of any period of service or apprenticeship remaining to be served under the contract (apart from the period of extension) at the end of the period of training, or, if no such period under the contract then remains to be served, immediately upon the termination of the period of training; and any period of extension shall be treated as the concluding period of the contract, and the terms of the contract shall apply to the period of extension accordingly.

(2) Nothing in this Regulation shall confer upon any employer authority to make any contract or arrangement with reference to the period of training which he is not authorised to make under any power already possessed by him.

GIVEN under my hand this 10th day of May, 1950.
