(DECIMALISATION OF THE CURRENCY) ORDER 1970

The Family Allowances, National Insurance, Industrial Injuries and National Health Service Contributions (Decimalisation of the Currency) Order 1970, made on the 11th June 1970 by the Lieutenant Governor under the powers conferred on him by subsection (1) of section 1 of the Old Age Pensions, Family Allowances and National Insurance (Isle of Man) Act 1956 and subsection (1) of section 3 of the National Health Service Contributions (Isle of Man) Act 1958 and approved by resolution of Tynwald on 7th July 1970.

Explanatory Memorandum

1. The Old Age Pensions, Family Allowances and National Insurance (Isle of Man) Act 1956 empowers the Governor, by order, to amend, vary or repeal any of the provisions of the enactments named in the Schedule to that Act (including the Family Allowances Acts, the National Insurance (Isle of Man) Acts and the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) (Isle of Man) Acts) in such manner as appears to him expedient for the purpose of making such enactments correspond (subject to such modifications or adaptations as he may consider appropriate) with the like enactments on similar subject matters from time to time operating in Great Britain. The National Health Service Contributions (Isle of Man) Act 1958 gives the Governor similar powers in relation to the National Health Service Contributions (Isle of Man) Acts 1957 to 1970. Any of the provisions of such an order may be made retrospective and shall take effect on such day or days as may be specified in the order, not being earlier than the date from which the corresponding enactments have effect in Great Britain. Any such order must be laid before Tynwald as soon as may be after it is made and does not take effect until approved by resolution of Tynwald. When such an order has been approved by resolution of Tynwald it takes effect as if it were an Act of Tynwald.

2. The provisions of this Order correspond to those provisions of the Family Allowances, National Insurance, Industrial Injuries and Miscellaneous Provisions (Decimalisation of the Currency) Regulations 1970 made by the Minister of State for Social Services, Great Britain, which amend, vary or repeal provisions of enactments relating to Family Allowances, National Insurance, Industrial Injuries Insurance and National Health Service Contributions and make certain transitional provisions so as to take account of the introduction of decimal currency.

3. In this Order, the rates and amounts expressed in terms of the new decimal currency are based upon the rates and amounts in the old currency (£ s d.) under the relevant provisions of the National Insurance (No. 2) Order 1969 and the National Health Service Contributions Orders 1968 and 1970. In general, the total amount payable by way of a flat-rate or graduated contribution in the old currency by employer and employee, by a self-employed person or by a non-employed person, is converted into the new currency by reference to the whole new penny conversion table (see Schedule 8), while total weekly benefit rates which do not convert to a whole new penny amount are rounded up to the next new penny.

4. The Order contains provisions for rounding payable amounts to a whole new penny and various transitional provisions.

5. The financial effect of this Order is limited to the result of rounding the amounts of contributions and benefits to which it relates in consequence of the decimalisation of the currency.

(3) Where, on or after the appointed day, payment of an amount by way of benefit falls to be made to a person and the total weekly rate of benefit that would be payable to that person in respect of any week (whether falling before or after the appointed day) and comprised in any such payment would be of an amount which would not be a new penny or a multiple thereof, then, unless, as respects any period during which the person entitled to the weekly rate of benefit which would not be a new penny or a multiple thereof is absent from the Isle of Man and is paid benefit in a currency other than the currency of the United Kingdom, the Board otherwise directs, the said weekly rate shall be rounded to the next new penny above.

made may, for any period during the period from 6th April 1970 to the end of the transitional period or, if earlier, to the date as from which any relevant contribution rates are changed (otherwise than in accordance with this Order) be calculated either by reference to the appropriate old currency rate or by reference to the corresponding new currency rate.

Transitional provisions relating to equivalent pension benefits and a payment in lieu of contributions.
