

FINANCE ACT 1993

LOTTERY DUTY (AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS 2002

Laid before Tynwald

19th February 2002

Coming into operation

27 January 2002

In exercise of the powers conferred on the Treasury by section 26(2), 28(2) and 38 of the Finance Act 1993^(a), and of all other powers enabling it in that behalf, the following Regulations are hereby made:-

Citation and commencement

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Lottery Duty (Amendment) Regulations 2002 and shall come into operation on 27th January 2002.

Amendment

2. The Lottery Duty Regulations 1999^(b) are amended as follows.

3. For regulation 6(2) substitute -

“(2) Where payment of any lottery duty is deferred -

(a) it must be paid using either the Clearing House Automated Payment System (CHAPS) or the Bankers’ Automated Clearing Services (BACS), and

(b) payment must be credited to such bank account as the Treasury may require on or before the day by which the return showing that duty must be furnished.”.

4. In regulation 7(3)(a), immediately after “14”, insert “or 14A”.

5. In regulation 14(1) for “fifteenth day of the month next” substitute “thirteenth day”.

6. After regulation 14 add -

“14A. (1) A registered promoter may furnish a return required by regulation 14(1) using electronic communications.

^(a) 1993 c.34 (of Parliament), applied to the Island by S.D. No. 508/99.

^(b) S.D. No. 509/99.

(2) Such a method of furnishing a return shall be referred to in this regulation as an “electronic return system”.

(3) A registered promoter may furnish a return by way of an electronic return system only on condition that -

- (a) the electronic return system in question takes a form approved by the Treasury in a specific or general direction; and
- (b) that promoter remains authorised by the Treasury in accordance with paragraph (7).

(4) No return shall be treated as having been furnished under paragraph (1) unless the conditions imposed by paragraph (3) are satisfied.

(5) An electronic return system shall incorporate an electronic validation process.

(6) Subject to paragraph (4) -

- (a) the use of an electronic return system shall be proved to have resulted in the furnishing of the return to the Treasury only if this has been successfully recorded as such by the relevant electronic validation process;
- (b) the time of furnishing the return to the Treasury using an electronic return system shall be conclusively presumed to be the time recorded as such by the relevant electronic validation process; and
- (c) the person furnishing the return to the Treasury shall be presumed to be the person identified as such by any relevant feature of the electronic return system.

(7) The Treasury may on application authorise a registered promoter to furnish returns using an electronic return system and may revoke such authorisation.

(8) The Treasury shall pay proper regard to the following factors before authorising a registered promoter or revoking an authorisation under paragraph (7) -

- (a) the state of development of any relevant electronic return system;
- (b) the protection of the revenue;
- (c) the degree of compliance with these Regulations of the promoter concerned; and
- (d) any other relevant factor.”.

7. In regulation 15(3) for “paragraph (4)” substitute “paragraphs (4) and (5)”.

8. After regulation 15(4) add -

“(5) The requirement in paragraph (3) that every return shall be signed by the registered promoter shall not apply to a return furnished in accordance with regulation 14A.”.

9. These amendments shall not have effect in relation to duty which became due before the coming into force of these Regulations.

Made this 23rd day of January 2002

Minister for the Treasury

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations come into operation on 27th January 2002 and apply to lottery duty which becomes due on or after that day.

They amend the Lottery Duty Regulations 1999. The principal changes made are:

- (a) to require payment of lottery duty by specified means of electronic communication;
- (b) to amend the date by which a return must be furnished to the Treasury;
- (c) to provide for the furnishing of a return by electronic communication.

Regulation 3 provides that payment of lottery duty be made using either the Bankers' Automated Clearing Services (BACS) or the Clearing House Automated Payment System (CHAPS) and that payment must be credited to the required bank account on or before the day by which the return is required to be furnished.

Regulation 5 requires a registered lottery promoter to furnish a return to the Treasury by no later than the thirteenth day following the end of every accounting period.

Regulation 6 makes provision for a registered promoter who applies to and is authorised by the Treasury to furnish returns using approved forms of electronic communication. Certain formalities are provided for to take account of the special characteristics of electronic communication.
