EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument)

This instrument specifies devices for the purpose of section 5B(8) (device for obtaining indication whether proportion of alcohol in breath is likely to exceed limit) and section 6(1)(a) (device for analysing specimen of breath) of the Road Traffic Act 1985 (as amended by the Road Traffic Act 1999). The reason for the change is that the previous approved device is unsuitable for use with the new emergency services communication system TETRA which is to be used from the 5th of April 2004.
